Dear OLGA C. ALONSABE:

Good day! I hope this finds you well.

Greetings!

We are UP Cinema, a student collegiate film organization based in the College of Mass Communication, University of the Philippines - Diliman that aims to create an avenue for filmmakers and film enthusiasts to share cinematic ideas.

Our annual collegiate film festival competition, Piling Obrang Vidyo (POV), has served as a portal to the growing film industry by providing a platform for student filmmakers to exhibit their films on the big screen.

This year, we will not only celebrate Filipino student filmmaking but also cultivate promising young individuals who aspire to hone their potential in the fields of film production and film criticism (of any medium) through our first development program—Pelikolektibo.

Pelikolektibo is an initiative of the organization's members who aim to further realize one of the late Alexis Tioseco's wishes: for films to be taught in High School. Like him, we have always believed in the youth as future movers of Philippine cinema.

In line with this, we would like to request you to invite all high schools within your jurisdiction to submit to the inaugural Pelikolektibo. Attached in this email are the primer and the official invitation for this year's film festival competition.

If you have any questions and clarifications, you may reach us at 0976 040 9923 (JT Trinidad (they/them) – Project Head) or email us at pelikolektibo.pov@gmail.com. I hope that you will encourage the students to submit their applications, especially those who are interested in films.

Thank you very much and we look forward to your favorable response. Keep safe in these trying times.
